To dear sweet Louise,
I'm writing you this novel
I am facing my mortal enemy - June.
these last 3 weeks have literary flew by for me, ever since May 7; - truthfully that is the quietest day of my life, for that was the nite of Venice party.

I hope you aren't too mad about me working at Burger Chef every nite.
In 2 weeks I should get the day hours instead of these stupid nite hours.

You are by far the coolest underclassman in our prized school.

We the class of '65 dedicate this yearbook to the future . . . that of the faculty . . . of our school . . . of the underclassmen . . . and our own.
May it be as glorious for all, as these four years have been for us.

Louise,
 Tell you what.
 I'm gonna do - wish you used as much, just like the other kids huh? But really mean it. Just remember all "different" things we've done! Like clines party, or hapaught's beach party at Stop 23!
 I wish you would do for me, & Jimmy.
 Don't ever break up with Jimmy.
 You're not "going" with him. He likes you ever. He likes you too much. And you're as a friend, but Jimmy as your

A NEW DAY . . .

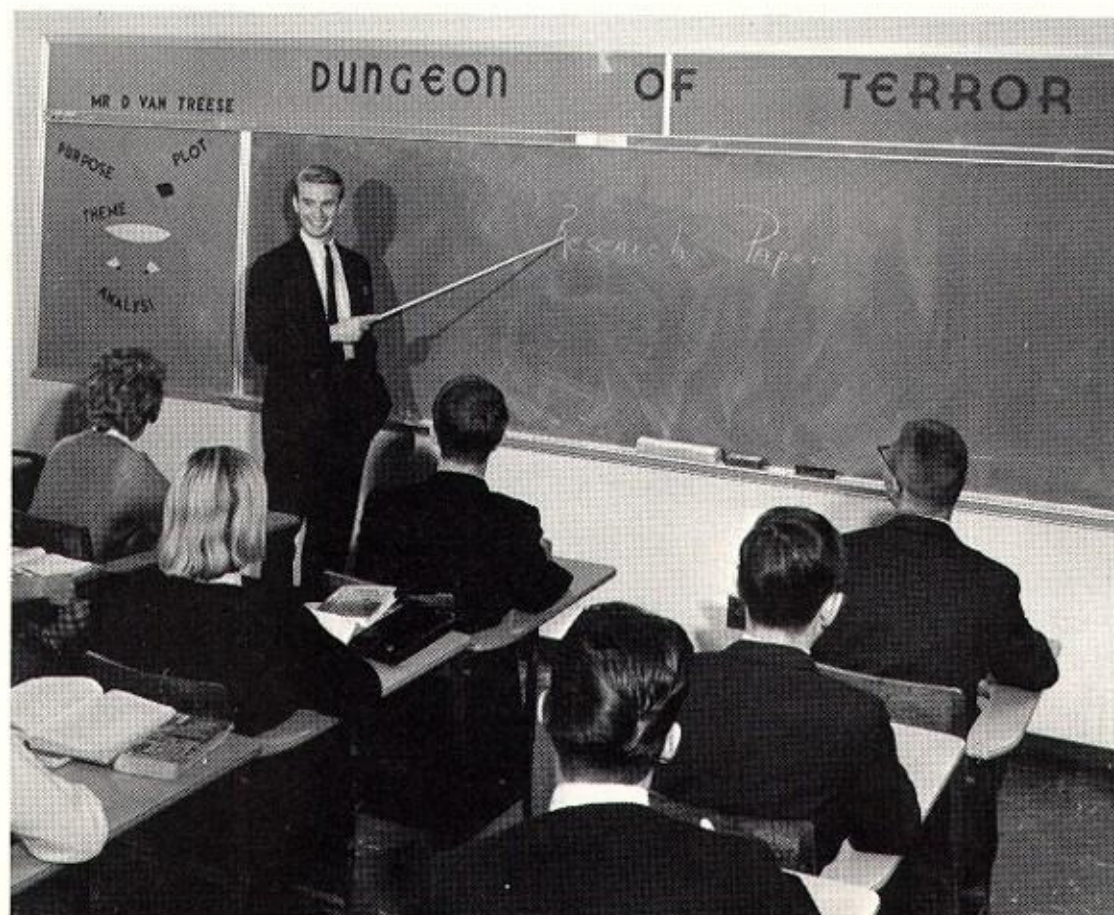

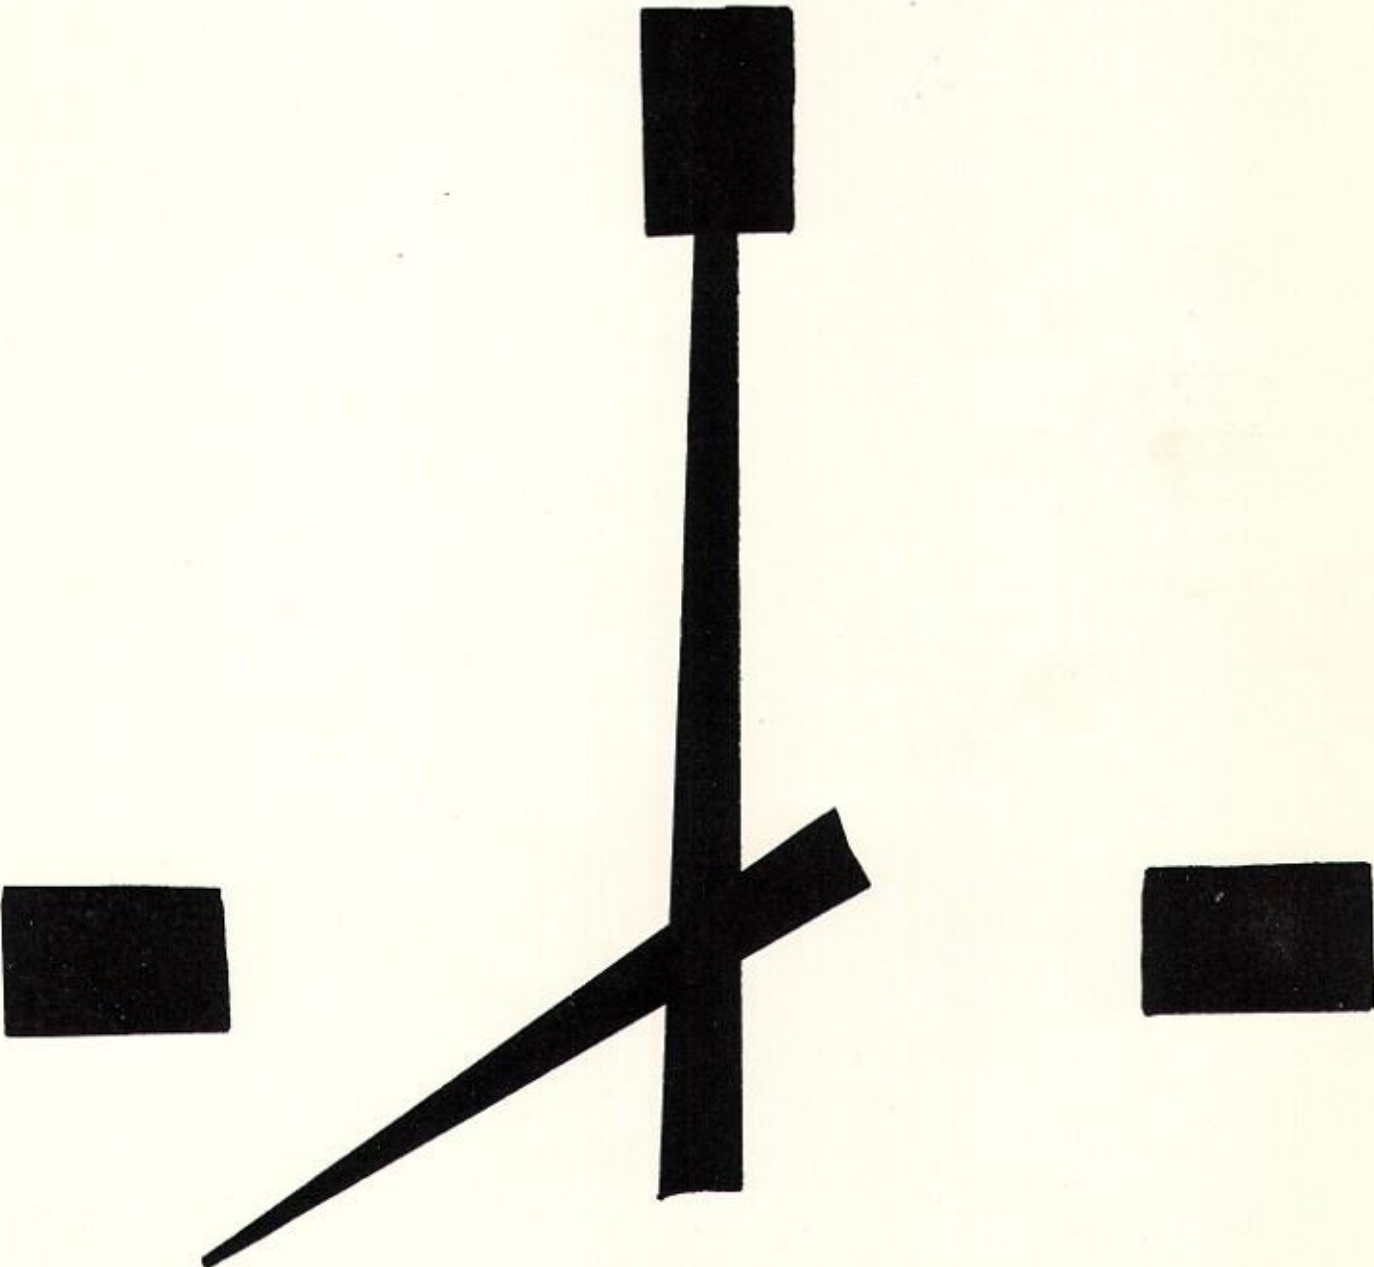

A NEW YEAR . . .

HAVE BEGUN . . .

Faster and more fast,
O'er night's brim, day boils at last.
The years at the spring
And days at the morn'
Morning's at seven;
The hillsides dew-pearled
The larks on the wing;
The snails on the thorn;
God's in His heaven—
All's right with the world.

Mrs. Hairopoulos keeps the office records neat and orderly. Without her help, college entrance could become difficult. She also presides ably over a study hall.

One of Mrs. Schumacher's most important jobs is the organization of L.H.L. She often works at this job herself. She is also keeper of the bookstore and friend to many.

Mrs. Schumacher

EMPLOYEES

The employees are a vital part of the school community. A multitude of tasks are performed by them daily which make our hours in school successful. Only those in close contact with these people realize the hard work and time that go into these often seemingly meaningless jobs.

Delicious lunches from the cafeteria give the students an uplift half-way through the day when their spirits begin to drag. These gracious ladies show infinite patience with serving their large families their meals.

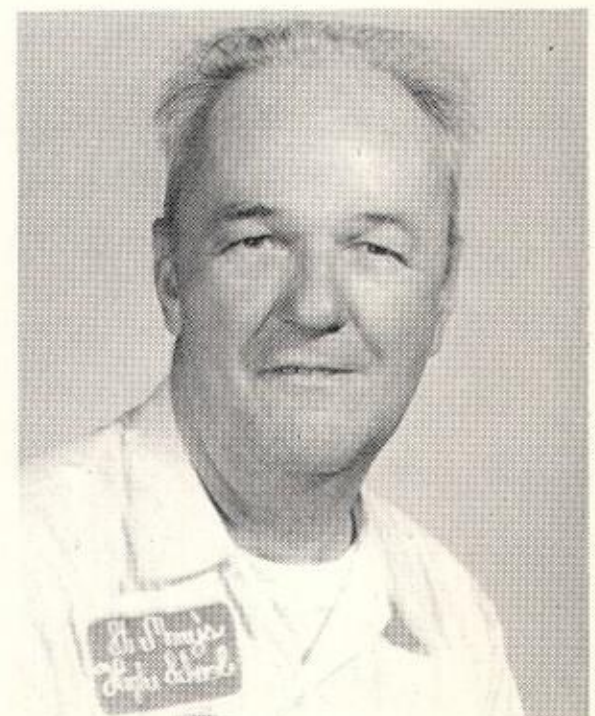

Mrs. Sobecki, Mrs. Gorski, Mrs. Gemchok, Mrs. McFadden.

Hans Schumacher

To keep the home fires burning is only one of the jobs of the custodians. Without these men, our school would be practically non-existent. These are the men who give their services long after the rest have gone home and forgotten the rigors of the school day.

right: typical of the fascination that first look at a paramecium brings, Larry Burkhart is glued to the microscope while Susan Carow looks on.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." This is the first sentence the aspiring typists must execute as they dexterously begin their commercial education. Under the guidance of Sister Rosita, St. Mary's business curriculum has become outstanding.

The events from primitive man to our present complex society are included in the available social study courses. Much research including map work is essential for comprehension of the facts of history, government and geography.

Those taking Drivers Education, better known as "Drivers Ed," can verify that they are all expert drivers after this course. Learning to drive begins by learning the "rules of the road," and afterwards, driving techniques are learned by practice on the street and in the drivers training car.

FRESHMEN

The dawn, the first part of the day. Just as the sunrise symbolizes the beginning of the Longest Day, so does the Freshman year symbolize the starting point of our part in life as students.

Freshman year is a year of firsts. The first time to hear such words uttered as "America est pulchra", the first time to see the dancing lights of the school's annual bonfire or the hearing of the yells of the first pep session.

Freshman year is the time for new discoveries. The time to experience the new methods of changing classes, the time of finding the many doors opening into the labyrinthian halls of the school, the new ways of unlocking your lockers . . . five to the right, back left to thirty-five and then on to seventeen.

Freshman year is the time for looking up to others. Looking up to those mighty seniors hovering over at the Frosh-Senior mixer or grinning and bearing the carrying of all those books which you carried in reverence to the upperclassmen.

All classes, even the best, must be led. The ample and able leaders who have taken charge of their Freshman class this year are: Paul Johnson, president; Cathy Ackil, vice-president; Jim Early, treasurer; and Jean Florent, secretary.

SOPHOMORES

A Sophomore is a wondering, searching soul, someone who has reached high noon and must now decide which path to follow.

This Sophomore Class has had many opportunities to show their worth. The candy sale brought the funds needed to finance the Sophomore-Senior Breakfast, probably the most notable event of their year.

Struggling through Geometry, Latin, and Biology, they will never again doubt the value or the necessity of a hard-earned A nor the thrill of cheering their favorite Sparklers on to victory. Suddenly, dancing is no longer a despised feat and extra curricular activities claim their outside interests.

A sophomore is a creative person, wondering if his art diagram for religion will be acceptable or if his theme shows enough imagination.

A sophomore is a happy person. One who thinks he and his class the greatest. One proves his spirit by yelling "E" at the top of his lungs at the pep session.

JUNIORS

For the most part the Junior year is a time of gathering money for that once-a-year highlight, The Prom. In order to accomplish this, they must have an infinite store of money-making ideas. Each project was well worth the time and energy, even the soaked shoes and chapped hands from the car wash.

The Junior year is a feeling; a feeling of something lost yet something gained. The silly ways of a child have been put away for the mature feelings of a searching person.

The Junior is seeking a way to find his identity. There is no looking back now—only ahead, to the future. Tedious hours spent with trig tables and the formula for force, searching of the world through maps in Geography and searching the soul for his destiny.

Able leaders of this class are: Mike Hale, president; Bob Schumhl, vice-president; David Burke, treasurer; and Ernie Zahrn, secretary.

Officers of Senior II under the sponsorship of Sister M. Georgia are: Tom Retseck, president; Janet Voris, vice-president; Susie Starr, secretary; and Tom Ramion, treasurer.

Good examples of characteristics necessary in capable leaders are those Senior I officers. Their duties are not only performed for the class but the whole school as well. Their many hours spent in homeroom with Coach Novak will be remembered for many years to come. The seniors are unified under one president: Tom Retseck. The other officers of homeroom I are: George Kazmierczak, vice-president; Chris Hipskind, Treasurer; and Cheryl Kellenberger, Secretary.

Is something that doth live,
That nature yet remembers

COURTESY GIRLS

Although courtesy girls is their title, the girls in the office are a combination of many things ranging from mailmen to receptionists. Some of their duties include answering telephones, questions; sorting and delivering mail; running errands and picking up attendance slips. These tasks are performed by them daily at the sacrifice of a study hall. They save a lot of important time for all members of the faculty as well as being an aid to the students.

Many are the tasks and duties of the librarians. Their help is vital towards maintaining an orderly library. They are a great assistance to students seeking information and books. They are also widening their education by learning the procedure of library business.

Book Sale

Character, scholarship, leadership, and service are the qualities needed by a student to be chosen as a member of the National Honor Society. They help promote these characteristics as ideals in others. The main event of Honor Society is its induction ceremony. During the year this organization sponsors and participates in various worthwhile projects such as the Book Fair. BOTTOM ROW: S. Jankowski, C. Tomaszek, C. Kellenberger, M. J. Stel-

HONOR SOCIETY

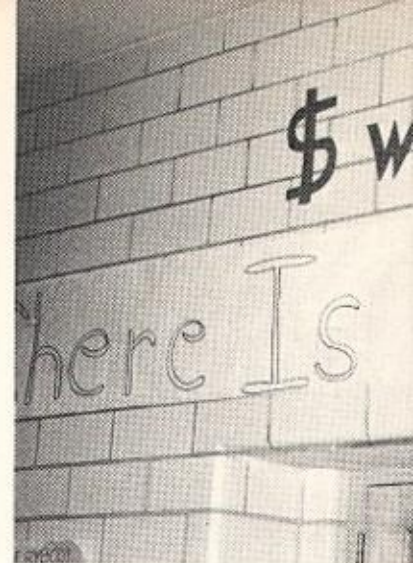

The Sodality of Our Lady is an organization to help students lead a more active spiritual and apostolic life. It tries to follow its motto: "To Jesus through Mary" by their weekly meetings and projects. This year the Sodality has taken an active interest in the prisoners, hospital patients, missions, and the new liturgy. The Sodality is concerned with Catholic Action and Christian growth. Its goals are apostolic effectiveness and spiritual helpfulness.

The students part in the organization and representation of the school is had in its Student Council. For those who are in the Student Council as officers—Paul Henrich, president; Mary Jo Stellema, vice-president; Carol Mokrycki, secretary; and David Swistek, treasurer; and as representatives, it is an opportunity to be part of the school's government and a chance to voice their opinions. The representatives work along with the officers to organize school functions.

Campaigners go all out.

COUNCIL

Gonzales, C. Mokrycki, S. Krueger, M. J. Stellema, E. Donoghue, J. Shaaf.

The Student Council sponsors such activities as the Homecoming, College Day and the President Kennedy Scholarship. They also organize school assemblies throughout the year and the post game dances. Another important responsibility of the Student Council is to be the "student voice". They represent the students' opinions on many issues. The student must have a sincere intention for the betterment of the school to be a good Student Council member.

Young Christian Students, better known as Y.C.S. has been actively working for the betterment of St. Mary's. This organization is concerned with Catholic Action. "Let us love not only in word, but in deed and in truth." They seek to find a real problem and then work to get it solved by the best way possible. Their meetings are held as informal discussions, so that each member gets the chance to express his views and opinions. Much is accomplished by these students because they are interested in what they are doing.

Investigating and promoting are the key words in talking about the Marian Club, for this organization takes an active interest in religious vocations. They are concerned with finding out information on the sisterhoods and missions. But more important, they promote and pray for an increase in vocations. They make available vocation material and look into some of the characteristics of religious vocations and communities. The Marian Club has also taken on some apostolic projects such as missions and other charitable organizations.

Sally Behler retells the age old Christmas story to her two nieces, Debbie and Nancy Nast, during the Glee Club Christmas program.

One of the oldest organizations at St. Mary's is the Glee Club. Every year the main holidays of celebration are brightened by the "angelic" tones of this 60 voice chorus.

Some of the big events of "Glee" are the annual Christmas pageant and the Spring program. Last year under the able direction of Mr. Pacholke the Glee Club put on their version of Gilbert and Sullivan's, "The Mikado".

This club practices twice a week and you can get a sneak preview anytime by just sticking around outside the choir room after school.

ART CLUB

SEATED: S. Krueger, J. Devereaux, J. Cienciwa, J. Hanish, J. Foldenauer, S. Wistoff. STANDING: C.

Tomaszek, J. Plahetka, D. Cizewski, V. Prazynski, S. Jankowski, D. Kmak, K. Knoila, S. Johnson.

Most of the aspiring young artists at St. Mary's can naturally be found in the Art Club. It was started just two years ago and has been progressing ever since. Under the leadership of its president, Jackie Cienciwa, the club does such creative things as borders and hall decorations.

The artists are very handy also for any teacher who is too busy to adorn his own room. They cheerfully and willingly take over this job to the best of their ability.

There are no requirements in order to join the group. A member is asked only to have a love of art with some imagination on the side.

During the course of the year many guest speakers, both local and from afar, are asked to lecture the club. In past times Marti Schook has given helpful suggestions on the principles behind Indian art.

FIRST ROW: J. Shikany, V. Wozniak, M. Salvat, S. Weiler, P. Sabo, B. Sherman. SECOND ROW: B. Voris, C. DeVos, P. Grabiak, S. Krueger, C. Losiniecki, K. Kienitz, K. Brown, THIRD ROW: M. Yuhas, E. Kaminski, P. Kelly, D. Schiel, T. McNally, J. Jarosz, E. Birt, R. Harris, S. Dealer, M. Lechantski.

The purpose of the Drama Club is to introduce the student to the world of Drama, as well as to provide an opportunity for extra-curriculum endeavors. The students in drama may or may not turn out to be stage performers but they are really showing their talent to us at St. Mary's, and their knowledge of acting and drama.

So far under the able direction of Mr. Van Treese this club has put on their rendition of Albee's "Sandbox". And the group plans to do other selections in the future.

PEP CLUB

The enthusiasm of this year's Pep club is so overwhelming that it has boosted the morale of the entire student body and increased the attendance at the games. They have made us conscience that the impression we make upon others is really very important, whether we win or lose.

IMMACULATA STAFF

Karen Borg, Warren Hardesty, Gene Topolski, Jim Jarosz, Tom Retseck talk with Sister John Cecilia. Many ideas are acquired by studying yearbooks of other schools.

Cheryl Kellenberger, Cathy Periolat, Sally Behler Nancy Parry, Sharon Krueger, Janet Voris, Mary Jo Stellema, Tom Wright, and Carol Tomaszek.

This Immaculata is the finished product of the conscientious work and effort of its staff. Subscribing patrons, snapping candid and group pictures, and meeting deadlines are standard procedure connected with the yearbook. But there is not just work involved, for being on the staff is also a source of much friendly teamwork and cooperation. The main purpose of the yearbook is to give a story of the school year with pictures.

This group raises money by various dances and the annual patron drive which takes place at the beginning of the year.

J. Wistoff, E. Birt, J. Plahetka, L. Wisthoff, E. Kaminski.

MARQUETTE STAFF

Thanks to the hard working Marquette staff, the school paper is able to continually inform, entertain, and interest the students. Through the many events covered, there is much teamwork, time and effort contributed by its staff.

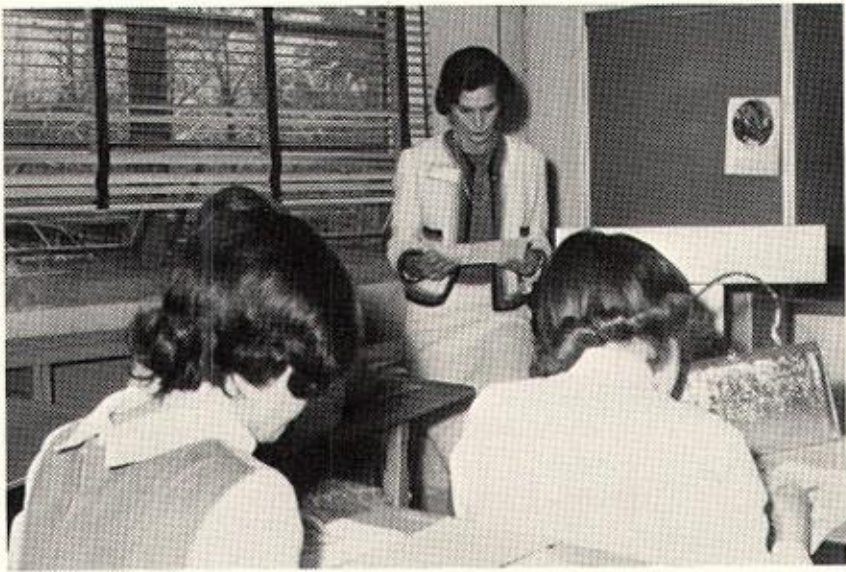

The Marquette tries to provide complete coverage of school events—academic, social and sports. Also, they look into and relate the opinions of the students on various issues. And widening their coverage even further, they have informed us of cultural and social events outside of the school of interest to the students.

COLLEGE DAY

ASSEMBLIES

Not only do assemblies mean a break from classroom routine but they are also opportunities for further education, enlightenment, and entertainment. Shown on these pages are pictures of skits, plays, pep sessions, and, perhaps the most beneficial, the lecture given by the Indiana state prisoners.

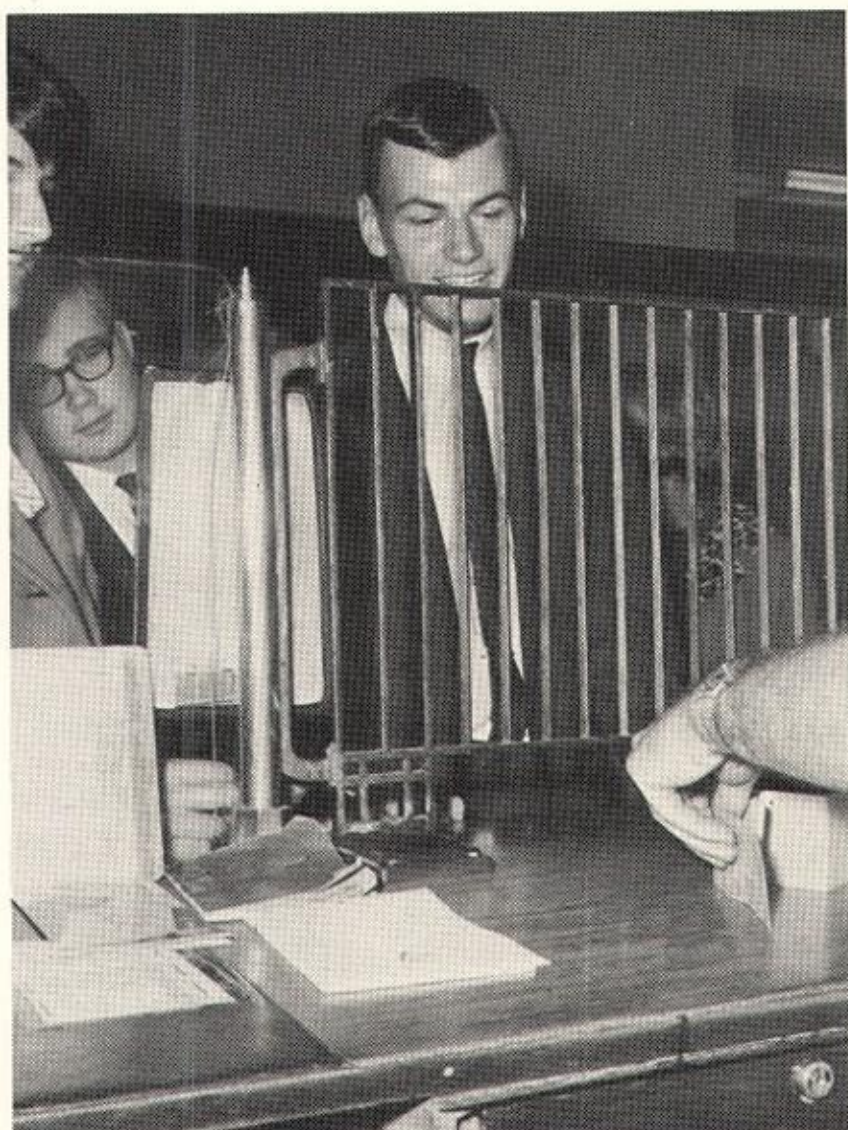

JOURNALISM WEEKEND

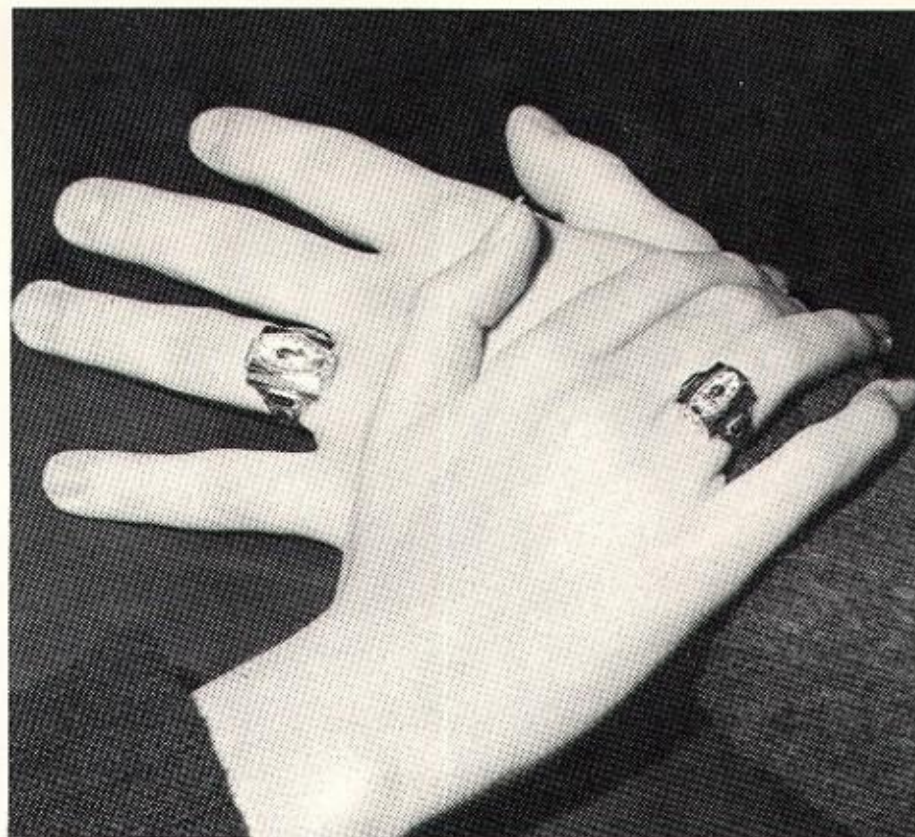

Essential ingredients for an interesting newspaper include lots of new ideas. For that reason, interested St. Mary's students attended a weekend seminar in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where they had the opportunity to share ideas with others from different parts of the United States. Several candid photographs were taken of the students before they left Michigan City.

THE

With the new year came new ideas, new energy, new spirit and new Sophomores and Juniors.

With determination they will someday develop themselves into complete persons, intellectually, spiritually, and imaginatively.

AND NOW . . .

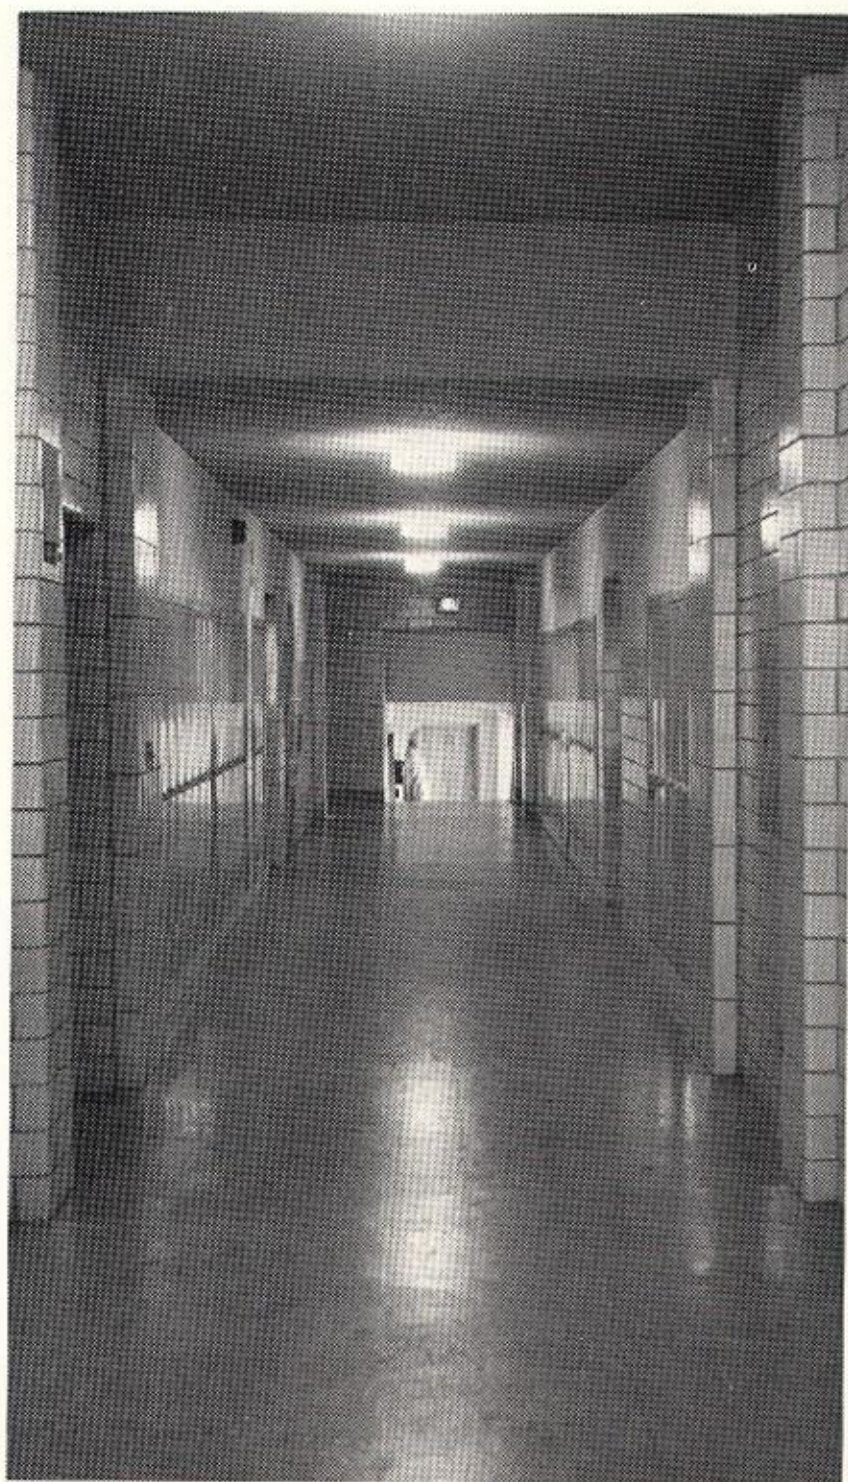

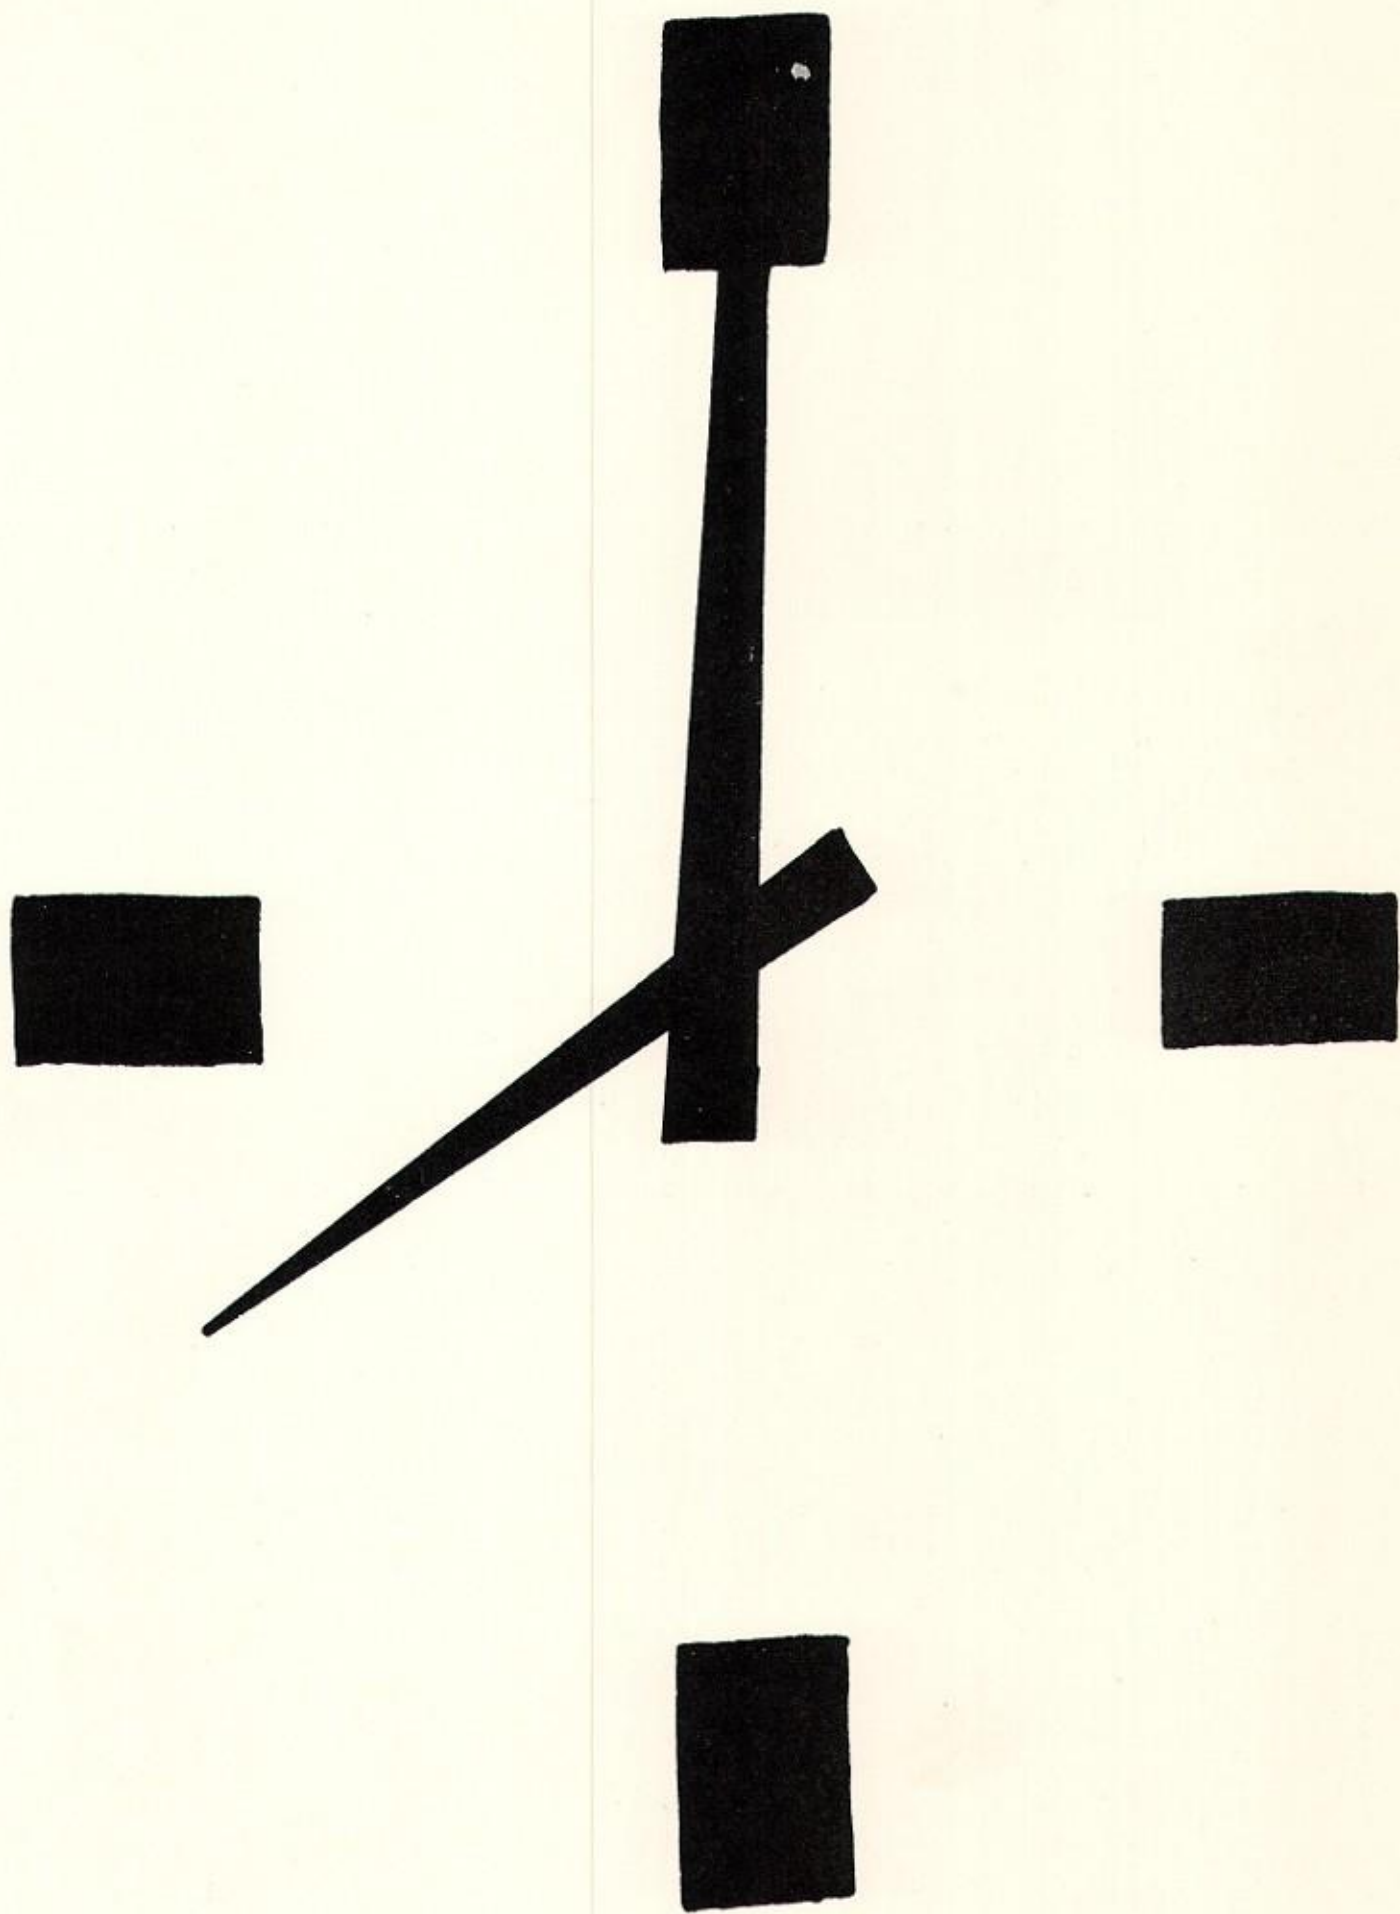

OUR HALLS . . .

ARE QUIET

And the best of all way
To lengthen our day
Is to steal a few hours from the night.

SPRING NIGHT'S DREAM

Marquette Hall was transformed into a bower of apple blossoms for a "Spring Night's Dream," the theme of the senior prom. Crowned as king was George Sereikas and his queen Barbara Retseck. The juniors who made up the court were princes, Tom Retseck and John Foldenauer, and princesses Mary Jo Stella and Karen Borg.

Sipping punch in the alcove, the prom-goers gazed with wonder at the pastel decor.

Unfortunately, the gala affair had to end and when the decorations had to come down, everyone pitched in to help.

THE MIKADO

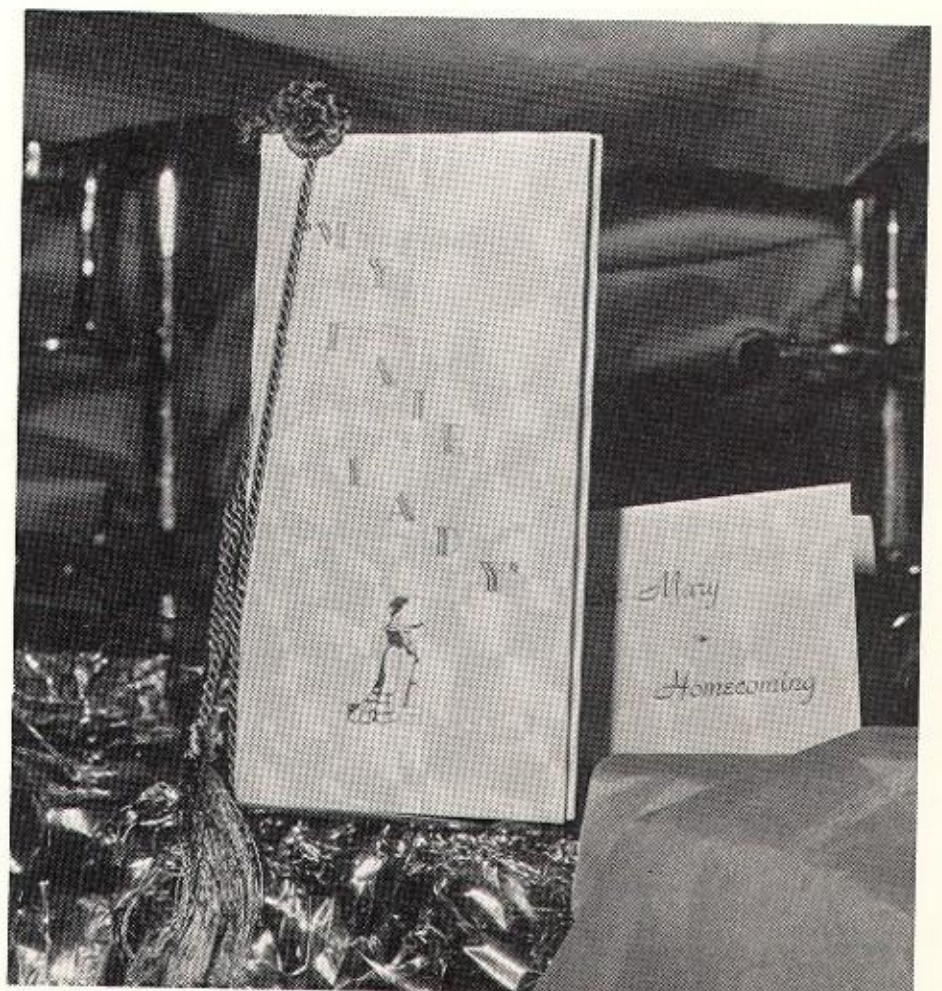

The music department, under the direction of Mr. William Pacholke, proudly presented their first musical in a number of years. The enthused cast spent many long hours in rehearsal.

On a frosty January evening the music of the 'Barons' beckoned the lettermen and their dates to lead the school in the annual celebration of the homecoming. The decoration committee succeeded in creating the lovely atmosphere of England, as this year's theme "MY FAIR LADY" enchanted all those attending. Midevening, the ball reached its climax when John Foldenauer crowned Tom Retseck, king of the affair, and Joan Hayman crowned Pat Sherman, Tom's queen.

MY FAIR
LADY

Valma Wozniak and Joie Shikany were elected queen and runner-up.

SWEETHEART DANCE

The chairmen, Gene Topolski and David Burke, dance with the proud winners.

Everybody helps to support his favorite candidate.

The Sophomores show the true meaning of Christmas: helping others.

CHRISTMAS PARTIES

Pat Mokrycki and Sandy Jankowski act as the hostesses at one of the Sophomore Christmas parties.

FRESHMAN MIXER

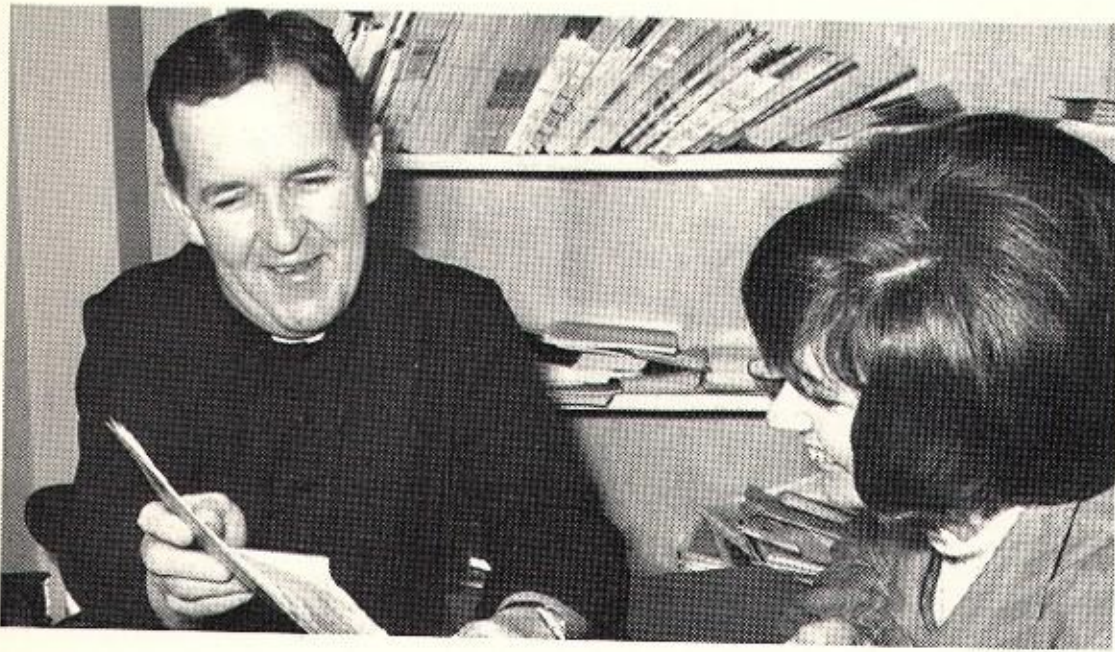

Remembering the confusion of their freshmen year, the '65 seniors adopted a new policy of fellowship. They initiated the Big Brother and Sister idea as shown on the opposite page while also entertaining the freshmen at the Freshmen-Senior Mixer.

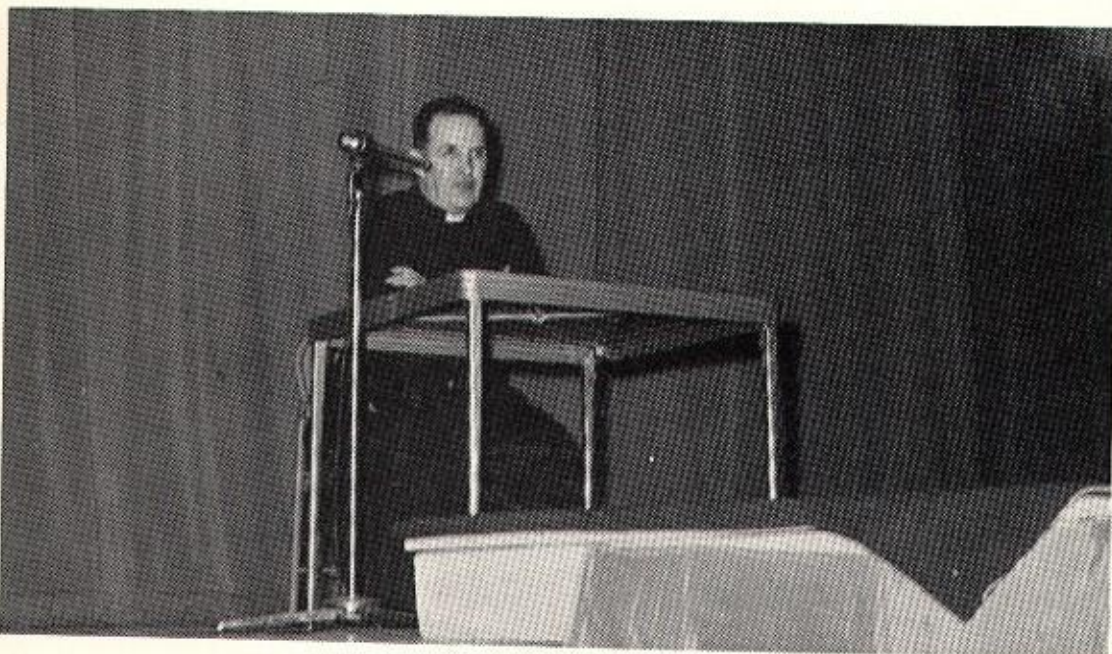

A DAY'S WITHDRAWAL

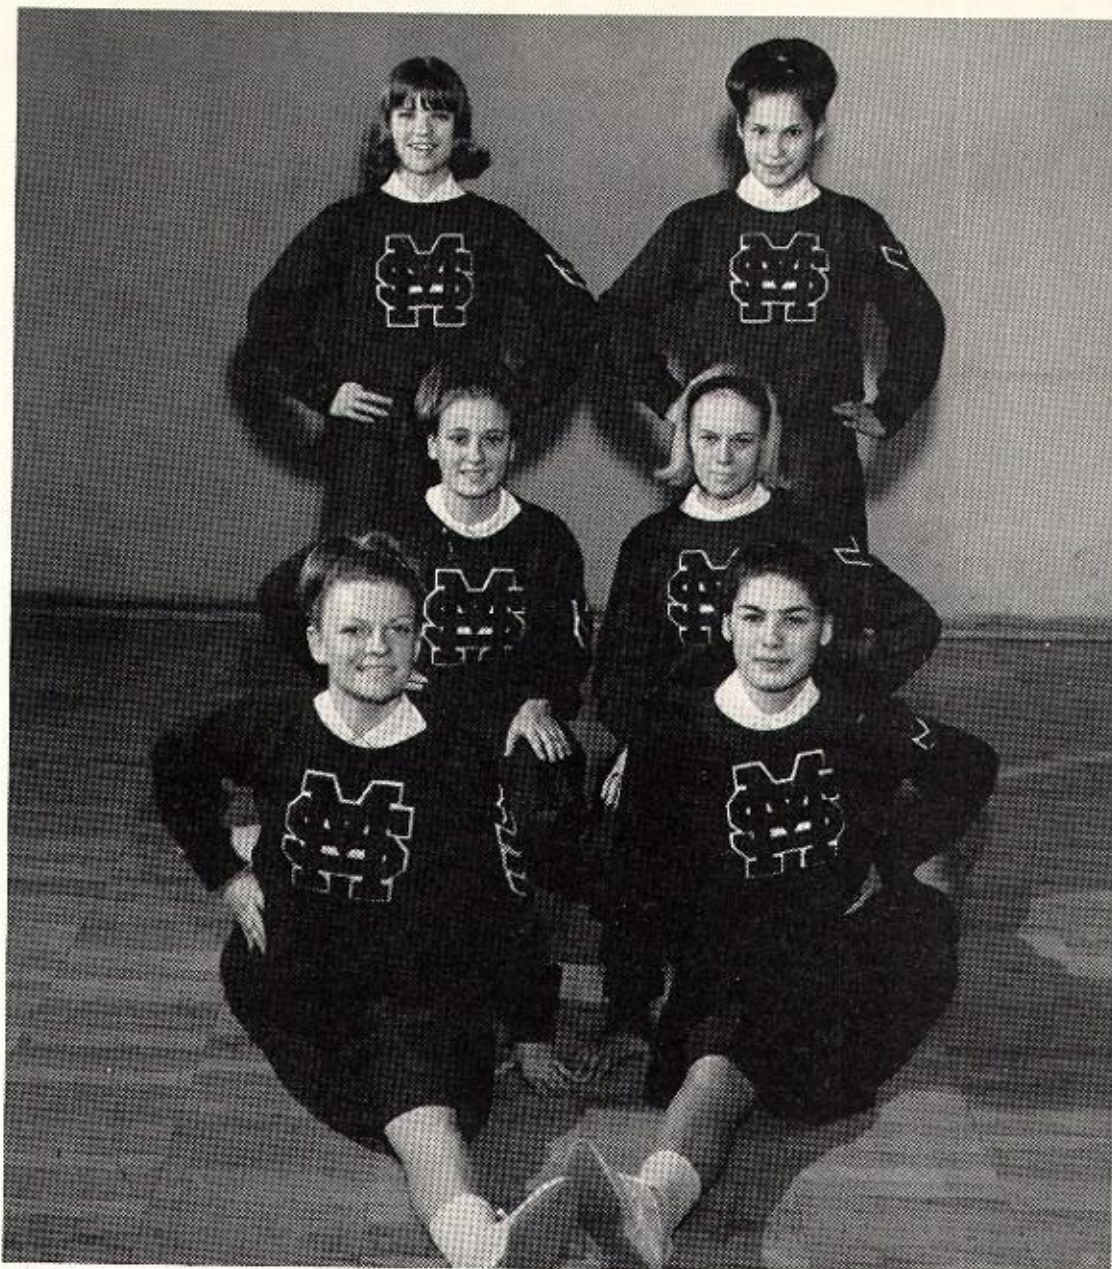

Father Peil, a well liked and energetic clergyman, conducted the first three days of recollection on February 29. Three lecture sessions were held after which private conferences, visits, or confessions could be made. Pictured from top to bottom are: Father Peil, Chris Sexton, and Margaret Casey.

What will the future hold?

LARRY VAN'T HOF

IN MEMORIAM

Who will ever forget Larry's smile and his ability to make others smile? His personality radiated warmth and love—an inevitable result of his wholehearted living. Then a tragic car accident took his life on April 23. The whole school and especially the sophomores felt deeply the tragic event. With hearts full of love and sorrow they sang the English requiem at noon on Tuesday, April 27, the second day of retreat. His classmates were servers and pallbearers.

Larry's love of his band, the Chessmen, caused him to learn not only his own part but also everyone else's part as well: "Ya know, guys, we gotta sound great!" Surely the music of his life will forever echo in our souls.

House,
a real cool stay as you are much
